TriAnkle Project - Open Exploitation and Innovation Workshop

The 1st Open Exploitation and Innovation Workshop is taking place in Cambridge, UK as a hybrid meeting.

Cambridge is a university city and the county town of Cambridgeshire, England, on the River Cam about 50 miles (80 km) north of London. Cambridge manages to combine its role as an historic city with a world-renowned University and it is an internationally acknowledged centre of excellence for technology and science.

The University of Cambridge (www.cam.ac.uk) was founded in 1209 and it is one of the top five universities in the world. It has 31 colleges, the oldest being Peterhouse (1284) and the newest being Robinson (1979).

Travel Information

Cambridge is located 50 miles (80 km) north of London and for international delegates we recommend travel via London Stansted airport as the most convenient.

Approximate travel times:

- London Stansted Airport - 50 mins by car – 35 mins by train
- London Luton Airport – 1 hour by car – 90 mins (by train via London)
- London Heathrow Airport - 90 mins by car – around 1h30 mins (by train with 2 changes)
- London Gatwick Airport – 100 mins by car – around 2 hours by train
- London King's Cross and St Pancras Eurostar link – 50 mins by train

University Arms, Autograph Collection – 4*

University Arms, Cambridge, re-created in 2018 by architect John Simpson and interior designer Martin Brudnizki, offers 192 rooms and suites, with views over Parker’s Piece, historic Regent Street, and the hotel’s inner courtyard. The style reflects classic Edwardian interiors with bespoke, leather-padded writing desks, low ottomans and rooms full of natural light. The result is ambitious, beautiful, and full of life. Occupying ground floor of University Arms, Cambridge, Parker’s Tavern is a quintessentially English brasserie. Chef Director Tristan Welch has designed every dish to be a whimsical re-imagining of a British classic, sourced from field, fen and seas. This is where you will find plates piled high with Norfolk fruits de mer, or in winter, suckling pig with wild mushrooms, and Tristan’s signature pie of the day. You can taste England on every plate.

The Regent– 3*

The Regent is a fine Georgian Grade II listed building. In 1871 it was the original home of the first five Newnham College Students. It was privately run Hotel owned by the same family since 1950. In June 2021, The Citystay Group took on the property, and closed for renovation in December 2021. We saw a gap in central Cambridge accommodation. There's no truly flexible option with a hotel element that's suitable for whatever visit. With our experience in serviced accommodation, we wanted to bring that to the city centre, and The Regent was the perfect fit.

The Regent offers everything you'll need for the perfect stay in this beautiful and historic city, whether you're visiting for business or pleasure. Centrally located this Cambridge Accommodation is an easy stroll to all the city's attractions, and overlooks the famous Parkers Piece.
